CANADA ALSO HAS WHEAT TO SELL

As it did a year ago, Washington announces that it is negotiating the sale of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat to China. As then, the sale is probably being made on time. It may also be that the sale was given out.

Canadian farmers will naturally want to know if their Government profited by the experience of last year and made any attempt to sell wheat in China this year for the extension of credit. The fact that wheat for May delivery is quoted two cents higher in China than in Winnipeg, with no corresponding spread for earlier delivery, lends point to the query.

CONFIDENT, AT LEAST

Premier Tolmie replied to the Kidd report with a lengthy list of things he won't do. He will not charge fees for attending high schools, he will not close down the public school system, he will not abandon the P.G.E. white elephant in the wilderness; he will not merge the provincial police with the Dominion force; he will not repeal the minimum wage law; he will not shut up the provincial office in Inuvik.

Perhaps the British Columbia taxpayers will see in this list of negations an assurance that their finances are in good shape, that the future is unclouded, and that their taxes are coming down. But it may be suspected they would like to hear something more definite. They would like to know if the Premier's words do not add to the mystery, but it is what he will do that will determine the size of the tax bill.

At least it is to be said for Mr. Tolmie that he is very positive in his negatives. He enumerates all the things he will not do, but does not say what he will do. He has not even had the temerity to write a Kidd report or what have you. Not many provincial premiers can muster up that much confidence in these uncertain days even as to what they won't do. Most of them, more or less openly, admit that they don't know what they will do, and that will or won't do if conditions should happen to drag along as they are. Premier Tolmie doesn't know either, but he thinks he does.

NOT ENOUGH BUTTER!

After three years of depression grain prices and meat farm products, the suspension of the Newfoundland and Ontario grain export taxes, the imposition of duties framed to preserve the home market for the home product, to say nothing of the campaign speeches of 1930, the Canadian consumer may be somewhat surprised to learn that he is facing a shortage of butter and the prospect of having to import that commodity or do without it.

Hon. Robert Weir is the author of the prediction, and he based it upon a departmental survey of production and consumption. It is said that Canada will be short about four million pounds of butter before spring unless the dairy farmers and butter-makers speed up their operations, which thus far in the year have slowed down decisively.

A similar situation exists in the U.S. Butter market has not made the dairy interests rich. On the contrary, they have not found it worth while to make sufficient butter for home consumption, even when the alternative to dairy-farming was the growing of 25 cent wheat and other products at paralell prices.

The object of the Minister in setting out the facts at this time is to urge farmers to feed the fattening animals to cows and thus take advantage of the extra weight of meat to help meet the present outlook for higher butter prices during the winter months. That is an outlook which even the consumer must hope will be realized, for until commodity prices go up, everything else must stay down, employment and wages included.

15¢ A MOUTH?

A Victoria despatch says the Union of British Columbia Municipalities has been given definite information that a scale of reduced relief assistance is to be put into effect in that province. "Pending final agreement with the dealers," were told that $15 a month for each member of the family with no dependents, and $2.50 for each dependent child will most likely be the new rates, subject to cabinet action in the matter."

It is my understanding, the British Columbia Government has reached this tentative decision without knowing how far the Dominion is prepared to go in contributing to relief funds. The Dominion must preserve approximate uniformity in dealing with the municipalities, which is the sole criterion in the scale rates, and the reason why the Dominion is willing to contribute in the established one-to-one ratio in British Columbia.

What is meant by this announcement is that the Dominion will contribute to relief funds. Provincial assistance will have to be computed in British Columbia. If a municipality grants relief in excess of the amounts stated the municipality will have to put up the extra money required. It is to be assumed Ottawa would accept a moderately higher base for Alberta and other provinces in which the climate is more severe than in British Columbia.

Making allowance for a fractionally higher scale in this and other provinces, there is only one thing to be said about the arrangement thus projected. It would be absolutely inadequate. Even the mild climate of the Pacific provinces—a family income of $20 a month. Nor could an Alberta family pull through the winter on a proportionally higher rate of say $25 a month. That would not, in most cases, do more than pay the rent of a town house.

If the Tolmie Government is speaking for the Dominion Government in this matter, the sooner the Dominion Government speaks for itself and in a quite different manner, the better. The same kind of ridiculous race of municipal contributions to municipal relief funds would mean one of two things: that people in western cities would starve and freeze; or that western cities would go bankrupt trying to supplement the niggardly federal dues up to the level of a living allowance.

High Fortune

By Edgar A. Guest

The man was pale of face and clad

In rainment worn and old

And it was plain to see he had

Great amount of gold.

And it was plain to see that he

Loud sin had caused to strive

Or cherish dreams that he might be

The greatest man alive.

Beside the road beneath a tree

He sat as one needs to hear

And added: "Men know what lies

Beyond to start the war,

And who beholds a lovely thing

Along life's winding way

Or stops to hear a songbird sing

Has had a happy day."

He gazed at once my great surprise

He saw a man needs to hear

And added: "Men know what lies

Beyond to start the war,

And who beholds a lovely thing

Along life's winding way

Or stops to hear a songbird sing

Has had a happy day."

And how a man clever enough to win $15,000 by an investment of $2 at a race track should be making a job is another rather puzzling thing—Toronto Mail and Empire.

SIDE GLANCES - By George Clark

The Passing Show

By J. S. Cooper

Sign of the times

On Granville Street, Vancouver, last Saturday morning, within a space of five minutes, I received several hundred such reports within the past few months with requests for explanation. I am not writing them all down here.

One was Hector Quagliatti, "Quag" is manager of a moving picture house. Theatrical and amusement.

The other was Col. Eddie, a contractor in chief for the new $7,000,000 C.N.R. hotel. Perhaps the colonel of the Irish Regiment has a natural blockhead.

I must say the green suits looked smart. They had a gay appearance amidst the blacks and blues and grays and dim-colored clothes. We may hope to see more in the way of color for men's clothes. Some of the ladies, not acting as chambermaids or door-openers, were dressed in some style, and make an appearance in one of the new wine-colored cloths the ladies favor at this time of the year. Violet and rose-pinks may be expected in the spring.

Men like myself with conservative tastes will tag along a season behind the plinkers. The servant girl who didn't like gaudy colors, my choice for 1933 will probably be "just a plain yellow" in place of the red.

How much more interesting life will be when we men can walk around the streets looking like end-men in a minstrel show.

Mr. Gillings thinks these poems are just peachy, but you can recite in exactly two and a quarter minutes."

Every newspaper office and public man is "smoked out" now and by his kind friends who some chap was seen with. "He was seen with a bottle" or "He was seen with a bottle" or "He was seen with a bottle" is the usual complaint.

However, they have been threatened to cut off the relief supply but any money we may substitute a packet of tobacco for some other article. Efforts to get a list of permit holders from the Liquor Control Board to check up how many men on relief have bought liquor, has been refused by the Liquor Control Board.

Hudson Winds Wreck Junker Planes

MISFORTUNES DOG PATHWAY OF AVIATORS

Fierce Gales Make Both Air, Water Freightings Difficult

CHURCHILL, Man., Sept. 28.—Fierce gales which last week caused the resounding crash of Hudson Bay and heavy fog which made visibility difficult and delayed grain shipments from the port of Churchill have with the three Canadian Airways' junker planes, freighting from Eskimo posts, been causing trouble. It was learned here today.

The icy, heavy fogs have sustained serious damage to the portons and another of the Junker planes may be out of commission now.

During the past month misfortunes have dogged the footsteps of aviators who have been flying to lonely settlements and across treacherous barren and fears are now entering that the weather may be running low at some points.

With freeze-up imminent in some districts, the aviators are forced to planes to venture from their bases until skin can be used and it is not likely that additional suitable for their use will be obtained for another month.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO ESTABLISH COAST COLONY

Alberta and Saskatchewan Co-operates to Seek Haven

Victoria, Sept. 28.—The "Caucasian and Indian Co-operative Society of Alberta and Saskatchewan" will establish a colony on the Pacific coast, it was announced yesterday, the purpose of "providing a haven where men and women of ideals will have the opportunity to live in the highest fulfillment by living according to the principles of the society."

Mr. J. McDonald and Mr. C. Morris of Jasper, Alta., sent to the coast to look over possible sites and it is believed they will recommend Saskatchewan as the most suitable site of the community to be established after the war by the International Blue Line Society.

The deserted halls, kitchens, workshops and dwelling places, vacant since the miners left, may be taken up their community five years ago, are ready to be taken.

"The colony will be run on straight socialist principles as a haven for men tired in spirit and body of the struggle from the strain and stress of the capitalist system and desire something higher out of life than mere dog-eat-dog commercialism," Mr. McDonald said.

The members said that the first party of twenty would come to the coast about February 1st, to be followed by others.

Welcome Turkey

The stories told in the English papers reveal the fact that the reputation of Turkey as a member of the League of Nations was quite a stirring incident. The Turkish delegate indicated that his country was not prepared for participation in the League. The League has now 56 members. There was not a single vote against Turkey's application for membership. The meeting of the assembly was postponed until Sept. 25—Newspaper.

Another wayfarer of Indian summer days has just returned from the south. The Indians of the autumn days are working days, the Indians of the winter days are resting days. It is best to attract those who should be in homes and offices and share in the work of the church to take advantage of the last few days of Indian summer.

STEPPING-OUT PARENTS WRONG

DEAR MISS DIX—I am an intelligent and attractive young girl of 15. My dad likes to step out, and my mother, who is very stern, doesn't like it. I have to stay at home to take care of my two small brothers. I never get to go anywhere except to an occasional matinee with my girl friends and I feel that I have a talk with my parents about it, but their argument is that since they are in their early 40s they don't have time to go out. They say that time for pleasure is short, while I am young and will have a long time in which to enjoy myself. But I don't like to go out. I would rather just stay at home and go out with boys and perhaps meet the ONE and ONLY that I will love all my life. What do you think? T. R.

ANSWER: Your parents are very stiff in sacrificing you to their own pleasure. The younger children are their responsibility, not yours, and that is the right of a mother to make her home and to care for them until they are out, enjoying themselves.

As far as parents, the parents who want to settle down and be there are, invariably make old children, for somebody has to bear the burden when the old should shoulder load down. It fails with crushing force on the young ones they have brought into the world and makes them old before their time.

I have known a lot of these dancing mothers and fathers who gave up every evening deporting themselves in night clubs, who would easily go away on long trips together, and who had no money and who spent their money in indulging themselves in any way possible. They failed, and everybody said how wonderful they were, but the fact was that they were not good parents, and that they didn't let their children be a burden on them as so many people did and did on and on.

And I have seen them children as overgrown babies. Little creatures, substituting as well as they could at home for father and mother, who had been brought up on their dainties. Girls who had to stay at home and mother their babies, who had to walk coddly infants while mother was off dancing. Girls who had to shabby down because it took all the money to buy mother's finery.

Boys who had to stand off cold collectors and who had to wake up at midnight to deliver packages, onions, carrots and other vegetables as usual. If you have no stock on hand, add a can of vegetable soup after your vegetables are tender. If you like, thicker, a soup first with a little flour. This makes a delicious stew.

To Improve a Vegetable Stew
In here is an easy way to make a delicious vegetable soup. Use onions, carrots and other vegetables as usual. If you have no stock on hand, add a can of vegetable soup after your vegetables are tender. If you like, thicker, a soup first with a little flour. This makes a delicious stew.

Try baking the meat loaf in muffin tins for a change. Garnish each "muffin" with green pepper and parsley for buttered supper and serve with tomato sauce.

What New York Is Wearing

By ANNABELLE WORTHINGTON

Obviously much study has been given to the designing of this costume. It is a wrap-over.

It has a neck opening which is quite an asset. You can adjust it to suit your figure. A narrow belt cinches the waist and the end of the slip is passed through an opening at the right underarm and tied in a knot at the side.

It's shadow proof.

It's made in a light

silky material and designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50 inches bust.

It requires 4½ yards of 55-inch material with 7 yards of binding.

Macmillan's big classic of the fall, the world series, is underway now, and the boys who were here or there for the trials of these annual affairs will not have many days to wait before the next round begins. The vestments were wise or otherwise.

Some of the citizens, of course, like quicker action for their money and lay their bets—or make them—on the results, giving the Cuban a look-in for another day to day.

You may recall that last week I named the Yanks as my choice to cop the gold and glory this year. If it is possible to make up one game, I still think the Cuban is a lookin' for about one game.

Looking back over my chances of last fall, I can hardly figure how it is possible to make up one game, but I still think the Cuban is a lookin' for about one game.

Leaving the subject of the world series for the names, you will believe that there is just as much wonderment about the city concerning the present outcome as this coming Sunday's senior football opener here between Eskimos and Calgary Altmohans.

Mrs. Glenn Collett, Vare of the Eskimos, who had won the title in the last 10 years, had an easy day, playing golf to defeat Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, who gained the first of her three national titles in 1930, defeating Charlotte Glutting, of Short Hills, N.J., defeated the amateur Mary E. Vare, who had been runner-up by six up on the last green.

MRS. HILL BEATEN

To complete the rout of the veterans, Mrs. Hill Beaten, of Oakwood, Wis., avenged herself for previous defeat by forcing Mrs. Otto Hill, of Milwaukee, to give up the United States title out of the tourney by beating her in the final round, 10 up to 9.

DEPRESSIVE PLAY

The co-medalists in the qualifying play, which have Helen Micks, of New York, and Mrs. Dorothy Campbell, of Atlanta, were equally impressive. Maureen Circuit of Haworth, N.J., and Mrs. Eddie, of Virginia, were overwhelmed. Mrs. Hartley, of Silver Springs, Md., by 5 and 4. Mrs. Hartley, of Silver Springs, Md., by 5 and 4.

EDMONTON

Edmonton has lagged behind Calgary in the matter of crowds for the last few days due to having to play two games in a row with a team that looks like a winner. It appears that all the old enthusiasm has gone. Doubtless, the Eskimos will have a large following when they return to play their first home game next Saturday. They certainly are deserving of a good crowd as Calgarians accord the Altmohans.
